Sentencing: Alternative Programs Where Appropriate

Amends Penal Code section 1203.097 to allow courts to order an alternative program where it is more likely to reduce recidivism.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the Conference of California Bar Associations recommends that legislation be sponsored to amend Penal Code section 1203.097 to read as follows:

1 § 1203.097

3 (a) If a person is granted probation for a crime in which the victim is a person defined in 4 Section 6211 of the Family Code, the terms of probation shall include all of the following:

5 (1) A minimum period of probation of 36 months, which may include a period of 6 summary probation as appropriate.

7 (2) A criminal court protective order protecting the victim from further acts of violence,
8 threats, stalking, sexual abuse, and harassment, and, if appropriate, containing residence
9 exclusion or stay-away conditions.

10 (3) Notice to the victim of the disposition of the case.

11 (4) Booking the defendant within one week of sentencing if the defendant has not already 12 been booked.

13 (5) (A) A minimum payment by the defendant of a fee of five hundred dollars ($500) to 14 be disbursed as specified in this paragraph. If, after a hearing in open court, the court finds that 15 the defendant does not have the ability to pay, the court may reduce or waive this fee. If the court 16 exercises its discretion to reduce or waive the fee, it shall state the reason on the record.

17 (B) Two-thirds of the moneys deposited with the county treasurer pursuant to this section
18 shall be retained by counties and deposited in the domestic violence programs special fund
19 created pursuant to Section 18305 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to be expended for the 20 purposes of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 18290) of Part 6 of Division 9 of the Welfare
21 and Institutions Code. Of the moneys deposited in the domestic violence programs special fund, 22 no more than 8 percent may be used for administrative costs, as specified in Section 18305 of the 23 Welfare and Institutions Code.

24 (C) The remaining one-third of the moneys shall be transferred, once a month, to the 25 Controller for deposit in equal amounts in the Domestic Violence Restraining Order
26 Reimbursement Fund and in the Domestic Violence Training and Education Fund, which are 27 hereby created, in an amount equal to one-third of funds collected during the preceding month.
28 Moneys deposited into these funds pursuant to this section shall be available upon appropriation
29 by the Legislature and shall be distributed each fiscal year as follows:

30 (i) Funds from the Domestic Violence Restraining Order Reimbursement Fund shall be 31 distributed to local law enforcement or other criminal justice agencies for state-mandated local 32 costs resulting from the notification requirements set forth in subdivision (b) of Section 6380 of 33 the Family Code, based on the annual notification from the Department of Justice of the number
34 of restraining orders issued and registered in the state domestic violence restraining order

35 registry maintained by the Department of Justice, for the development and maintenance of the 36 domestic violence restraining order databank system.

37 (ii) Funds from the Domestic Violence Training and Education Fund shall support a 38 statewide training and education program to increase public awareness of domestic violence and 39 to improve the scope and quality of services provided to the victims of domestic violence. Grants
40 to support this program shall be awarded on a competitive basis and be administered by the State
41 Department of Public Health, in consultation with the statewide domestic violence coalition, 42 which is eligible to receive funding under this section.

43 (D) The fee imposed by this paragraph shall be treated as a fee, not as a fine, and shall 44 not be subject to reduction for time served as provided pursuant to Section 1205 or 2900.5.

45 (E) The fee imposed by this paragraph may be collected by the collecting agency, or the 46 agency's designee, after the termination of the period of probation, whether probation is 47 terminated by revocation or by completion of the term.

48 (6) Successful completion of a batterer's program, as defined in subdivision (c), ~~or if~~ 49 ~~none is available, another appropriate counseling program designated by the court,~~ for a period
50 not less than one year with periodic progress reports by the program to the court every three 51 months or less and weekly sessions of a minimum of two hours class time duration. The 52 defendant shall attend consecutive weekly sessions, unless granted an excused absence for good 53 cause by the program for no more than three individual sessions during the entire program, and 54 shall complete the program within 18 months, unless, after a hearing, the court finds good cause
55 to modify the requirements of consecutive attendance or completion within 18 months. If a 56 batterer's program as defined in subdivision (c) is unavailable, or if the court determines that an 57 alternative treatment program is both appropriate and more likely to reduce the risk that the 58 defendant will reoffend in the future given the circumstances of the case, the court may order the 59 defendant to complete that alternative program in lieu of a batterer's program.

60 (7) (A) (i) The court shall order the defendant to comply with all probation requirements,
61 including the requirements to attend counseling, keep all program appointments, and pay 62 program fees based upon the ability to pay.

63 ~~(ii) The terms of probation for offenders shall not be lifted until all reasonable fees due to~~ 64 ~~the counseling program have been paid in full, but in no case shall probation be extended beyond~~
65 ~~the term provided in subdivision (a) of Section 1203.1. If the court finds that the defendant does~~
66 ~~not have the ability to pay the fees based on the defendant's changed circumstances, the court~~
67 ~~may reduce or waive the fees.~~

68 (B) Upon request by the batterer's ordered program, the court shall provide the 69 defendant's arrest report, prior incidents of violence, and treatment history to the program.

70 (8) Where appropriate, ~~The~~ court also shall order the defendant to perform a specified
71 amount of appropriate community service, as designated by the court. The defendant shall 72 present the court with proof of completion of community service and the court shall determine if 73 the community service has been satisfactorily completed. If sufficient staff and resources are 74 available, the community service shall be performed under the jurisdiction of the local agency
75 overseeing a community service program.

76 (9) If the program finds that the defendant is unsuitable, the program shall immediately
77 contact the probation department or the court. The probation department or court shall either
78 recalendar the case for hearing or refer the defendant to an appropriate alternative batterer's 79 program.

80 (10) (A) Upon recommendation of the program, a court shall require a defendant to 81 participate in additional sessions throughout the probationary period, unless it finds that it is not 82 in the interests of justice to do so, states its reasons on the record, and enters them into the 83 minutes. In deciding whether the defendant would benefit from more sessions, the court shall 84 consider whether any of the following conditions exists:

85 (i) The defendant has been violence free for a minimum of six months.

86 (ii) The defendant has cooperated and participated in the batterer's program.

87 (iii) The defendant demonstrates an understanding of and practices positive conflict 88 resolution skills.

89 (iv) The defendant blames, degrades, or has committed acts that dehumanize the victim 90 or puts at risk the victim's safety, including, but not limited to, molesting, stalking, striking, 91 attacking, threatening, sexually assaulting, or battering the victim.

92 (v) The defendant demonstrates an understanding that the use of coercion or violent 93 behavior to maintain dominance is unacceptable in an intimate relationship.

94 (vi) The defendant has made threats to harm anyone in any manner.

95 (vii) The defendant has complied with applicable requirements under paragraph (6) of 96 subdivision (c) or subparagraph (C) to receive alcohol counseling, drug counseling, or both.

97 (viii) The defendant demonstrates acceptance of responsibility for the abusive behavior
98 perpetrated against the victim.

99 (B) The program shall immediately report any violation of the terms of the protective 100 order, including any new acts of violence or failure to comply with the program requirements, to 101 the court, the prosecutor, and, if formal probation has been ordered, to the probation department.
102 The probationer shall file proof of enrollment in a batterer's program with the court within 30
103 days of conviction.

104 (C) Concurrent with other requirements under this section, in addition to, and not in lieu 105 of, the batterer's program, and unless prohibited by the referring court, the probation department
106 or the court may make provisions for a defendant to use his or her resources to enroll in a
107 chemical dependency program or to enter voluntarily a licensed chemical dependency recovery 108 hospital or residential treatment program that has a valid license issued by the state to provide 109 alcohol or drug services to receive program participation credit, as determined by the court. The 110 probation department shall document evidence of this hospital or residential treatment 111 participation in the defendant's program file.

112 (11) The conditions of probation may include, in lieu of a fine, but not in lieu of the fund
113 payment required under paragraph (5), one or more of the following requirements:

114 (A) That the defendant make payments to a battered women's shelter, up to a maximum 115 of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

116 (B) That the defendant reimburse the victim for reasonable expenses that the court finds 117 are the direct result of the defendant's offense.

118 For any order to pay a fine, to make payments to a battered women's shelter, or to pay restitution 119 as a condition of probation under this subdivision, the court shall make a determination of the 120 defendant's ability to pay. Determination of a defendant's ability to pay may include his or her
121 future earning capacity. A defendant shall bear the burden of demonstrating lack of his or her
122 ability to pay. Express findings by the court as to the factors bearing on the amount of the fine
123 shall not be required. In no event shall any order to make payments to a battered women's shelter 124 be made if it would impair the ability of the defendant to pay direct restitution to the victim or 125 court-ordered child support. When the injury to a married person is caused, in whole or in part,

126 by the criminal acts of his or her spouse in violation of this section, the community property shall 127 not be used to discharge the liability of the offending spouse for restitution to the injured spouse, 128 as required by Section 1203.04, as operative on or before August 2, 1995, or Section 1202.4, or 129 to a shelter for costs with regard to the injured spouse, until all separate property of the offending 130 spouse is exhausted.

131 (12) If it appears to the prosecuting attorney, the court, or the probation department that 132 the defendant is performing unsatisfactorily in the assigned program, is not benefiting from 133 counseling, or has engaged in criminal conduct, upon request of the probation officer, the 134 prosecuting attorney, or on its own motion, the court, as a priority calendar item, shall hold a 135 hearing to determine whether further sentencing should proceed. The court may consider factors, 136 including, but not limited to, any violence by the defendant against the former or a new victim
137 while on probation and noncompliance with any other specific condition of probation. If the 138 court finds that the defendant is not performing satisfactorily in the assigned program, is not 139 benefiting from the program, has not complied with a condition of probation, or has engaged in 140 criminal conduct, the court shall terminate the defendant's participation in the program and shall 141 proceed with further sentencing.

142 (b) If a person is granted formal probation for a crime in which the victim is a person
143 defined in Section 6211 of the Family Code, in addition to the terms specified in subdivision (a),
144 all of the following shall apply:

145 (1) The probation department shall make an investigation and take into consideration the 146 defendant's age, medical history, employment and service records, educational background, 147 community and family ties, prior incidents of violence, police report, treatment history, if any,
148 demonstrable motivation, and other mitigating factors in determining which batterer's program
149 would be appropriate for the defendant. This information shall be provided to the batterer's
150 program if it is requested. The probation department shall also determine which community 151 programs the defendant would benefit from and which of those programs would accept the 152 defendant. The probation department shall report its findings and recommendations to the court.

153 (2) The court shall advise the defendant that the failure to report to the probation
154 department for the initial investigation, as directed by the court, or the failure to enroll in a
155 specified program, as directed by the court or the probation department, shall result in possible
156 further incarceration. The court, in the interests of justice, may relieve the defendant from the 157 prohibition set forth in this subdivision based upon the defendant's mistake or excusable neglect.
158 Application for this relief shall be filed within 20 court days of the missed deadline. This time
159 limitation may not be extended. A copy of any application for relief shall be served on the office 160 of the prosecuting attorney.

161 (3) After the court orders the defendant to a batterer's program, the probation department 162 shall conduct an initial assessment of the defendant, including, but not limited to, all of the 163 following:

164 (A) Social, economic, and family background.

165 (B) Education.

166 (C) Vocational achievements.

167 (D) Criminal history.

168 (E) Medical history.

169 (F) Substance abuse history.

170 (G) Consultation with the probation officer.

171 (H) Verbal consultation with the victim, only if the victim desires to participate.

172 (I) Assessment of the future probability of the defendant committing murder.
173 (4) The probation department shall attempt to notify the victim regarding the 174 requirements for the defendant's participation in the batterer's program, as well as regarding 175 available victim resources. The victim also shall be informed that attendance in any program 176 does not guarantee that an abuser will not be violent.

177 (c) The court or the probation department shall refer defendants only to batterer's
178 programs that follow standards outlined in paragraph (1), which may include, but are not limited
179 to, lectures, classes, group discussions, and counseling. The probation department shall design 180 and implement an approval and renewal process for batterer's programs and shall solicit input 181 from criminal justice agencies and domestic violence victim advocacy programs.

182 (1) The goal of a batterer's program under this section shall be to stop domestic violence.
183 A batterer's program shall consist of the following components:

184 (A) Strategies to hold the defendant accountable for the violence in a relationship,
185 including, but not limited to, providing the defendant with a written statement that the defendant
186 shall be held accountable for acts or threats of domestic violence.

187 (B) A requirement that the defendant participate in ongoing same-gender group sessions.

188 (C) An initial intake that provides written definitions to the defendant of physical, 189 emotional, sexual, economic, and verbal abuse, and the techniques for stopping these types of 190 abuse.

191 (D) Procedures to inform the victim regarding the requirements for the defendant's 192 participation in the intervention program as well as regarding available victim resources. The 193 victim also shall be informed that attendance in any program does not guarantee that an abuser
194 will not be violent.

195 (E) A requirement that the defendant attend group sessions free of chemical influence.

196 (F) Educational programming that examines, at a minimum, gender roles, socialization,
197 the nature of violence, the dynamics of power and control, and the effects of abuse on children
198 and others.

199 (G) A requirement that excludes any couple counseling or family counseling, or both.

200 (H) Procedures that give the program the right to assess whether or not the defendant 201 would benefit from the program and to refuse to enroll the defendant if it is determined that the 202 defendant would not benefit from the program, so long as the refusal is not because of the 203 defendant's inability to pay. If possible, the program shall suggest an appropriate alternative 204 program.

205 (I) Program staff who, to the extent possible, have specific knowledge regarding, but not 206 limited to, spousal abuse, child abuse, sexual abuse, substance abuse, the dynamics of violence 207 and abuse, the law, and procedures of the legal system.

208 (J) Program staff who are encouraged to utilize the expertise, training, and assistance of 209 local domestic violence centers.

210 (K) A requirement that the defendant enter into a written agreement with the program, 211 which shall include an outline of the contents of the program, the attendance requirements, the 212 requirement to attend group sessions free of chemical influence, and a statement that the 213 defendant may be removed from the program if it is determined that the defendant is not 214 benefiting from the program or is disruptive to the program.

215 (L) A requirement that the defendant sign a confidentiality statement prohibiting 216 disclosure of any information obtained through participating in the program or during group 217 sessions regarding other participants in the program.

218 (M) Program content that provides cultural and ethnic sensitivity.
219 (N) A requirement of a written referral from the court or probation department prior to 220 permitting the defendant to enroll in the program. The written referral shall state the number of 221 minimum sessions required by the court.
222 (O) Procedures for submitting to the probation department all of the following uniform
223 written responses:
224 (i) Proof of enrollment, to be submitted to the court and the probation department and to 225 include the fee determined to be charged to the defendant, based upon the ability to pay, for each 226 session.
227 (ii) Periodic progress reports that include attendance, fee payment history, and program
228 compliance.
229 (iii) Final evaluation that includes the program's evaluation of the defendant's progress, 230 using the criteria set forth in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (10) of subdivision (a), and 231 recommendation for either successful or unsuccessful termination or continuation in the 232 program.
233 (P) A sliding fee schedule based on the defendant's ability to pay. The batterer's program
234 shall develop and utilize a sliding fee scale that recognizes both the defendant's ability to pay
235 and the necessity of programs to meet overhead expenses. An indigent defendant may negotiate a 236 deferred payment schedule, but shall pay a nominal fee, if the defendant has the ability to pay the 237 nominal fee. Upon a hearing and a finding by the court that the defendant does not have the 238 financial ability to pay the nominal fee, the court shall waive this fee. The payment of the fee
239 shall be made a condition of probation if the court determines the defendant has the present
240 ability to pay the fee. The fee shall be paid during the term of probation unless the program sets 241 other conditions. The acceptance policies shall be in accordance with the scaled fee system.
242 (2) The court shall refer persons only to batterer's programs that have been approved by 243 the probation department pursuant to paragraph (5). The probation department shall do both of 244 the following:
245 (A) Provide for the issuance of a provisional approval, provided that the applicant is in 246 substantial compliance with applicable laws and regulations and an urgent need for approval 247 exists. A provisional approval shall be considered an authorization to provide services and shall 248 not be considered a vested right.
249 (B) If the probation department determines that a program is not in compliance with 250 standards set by the department, the department shall provide written notice of the noncompliant
251 areas to the program. The program shall submit a written plan of corrections within 14 days from 252 the date of the written notice on noncompliance. A plan of correction shall include, but not be 253 limited to, a description of each corrective action and timeframe for implementation. The 254 department shall review and approve all or any part of the plan of correction and notify the 255 program of approval or disapproval in writing. If the program fails to submit a plan of correction 256 or fails to implement the approved plan of correction, the department shall consider whether to 257 revoke or suspend approval and, upon revoking or suspending approval, shall have the option to 258 cease referrals of defendants under this section.
259 (3) No program, regardless of its source of funding, shall be approved unless it meets all 260 of the following standards:
261 (A) The establishment of guidelines and criteria for education services, including 262 standards of services that may include lectures, classes, and group discussions.

263 (B) Supervision of the defendant for the purpose of evaluating the person's progress in 264 the program.

265 (C) Adequate reporting requirements to ensure that all persons who, after being ordered 266 to attend and complete a program, may be identified for either failure to enroll in, or failure to 267 successfully complete, the program or for the successful completion of the program as ordered.
268 The program shall notify the court and the probation department, in writing, within the period of 269 time and in the manner specified by the court of any person who fails to complete the program.
270 Notification shall be given if the program determines that the defendant is performing 271 unsatisfactorily or if the defendant is not benefiting from the education, treatment, or counseling.

272 (D) No victim shall be compelled to participate in a program or counseling, and no
273 program may condition a defendant's enrollment on participation by the victim.

274 (4) In making referrals of indigent defendants to approved batterer's programs, the 275 probation department shall apportion these referrals evenly among the approved programs.

276 (5) The probation department shall have the sole authority to approve a batterer's 277 program for probation. The program shall be required to obtain only one approval but shall 278 renew that approval annually.

279 (A) The procedure for the approval of a new or existing program shall include all of the 280 following:

281 (i) The completion of a written application containing necessary and pertinent 282 information describing the applicant program.

283 (ii) The demonstration by the program that it possesses adequate administrative and 284 operational capability to operate a batterer's treatment program. The program shall provide 285 documentation to prove that the program has conducted batterer's programs for at least one year
286 prior to application. This requirement may be waived under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) if 287 there is no existing batterer's program in the city, county, or city and county.

288 (iii) The onsite review of the program, including monitoring of a session to determine 289 that the program adheres to applicable statutes and regulations.

290 (iv) The payment of the approval fee.

291 (B) The probation department shall fix a fee for approval not to exceed two hundred fifty 292 dollars ($250) and for approval renewal not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250) every 293 year in an amount sufficient to cover its costs in administering the approval process under this 294 section. No fee shall be charged for the approval of local governmental entities.

295 (C) The probation department has the sole authority to approve the issuance, denial, 296 suspension, or revocation of approval and to cease new enrollments or referrals to a batterer's
297 program under this section. The probation department shall review information relative to a 298 program's performance or failure to adhere to standards, or both. The probation department may 299 suspend or revoke an approval issued under this subdivision or deny an application to renew an 300 approval or to modify the terms and conditions of approval, based on grounds established by 301 probation, including, but not limited to, either of the following:

302 (i) Violation of this section by any person holding approval or by a program employee in 303 a program under this section.

304 (ii) Misrepresentation of any material fact in obtaining the approval.

305 (6) For defendants who are chronic users or serious abusers of drugs or alcohol, standard
306 components in the program shall include concurrent counseling for substance abuse and violent 307 behavior, and in appropriate cases, detoxification and abstinence from the abused substance.

308 (7) The program shall conduct an exit conference that assesses the defendant’s progress
309 during his or her participation in the batterer’s program.

310 (d) An act or omission relating to the approval of a batterer’s treatment programs under 311 paragraph (5) of subdivision (c) is a discretionary act pursuant to Section 820.2 of the 312 Government Code.

PROPONENT: Los Angeles County Bar Association

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Problem: Under current law, defendants convicted of offenses impacting members of their own families are required, without exception, to participate in a year-long “batterer’s” program. The problem is that not every mandatory offense involves violence, or is best handled by forcing the defendant to undergo a batterer’s program. A schizophrenic teenager who, while off his medication, breaks a window in his parents’ house, for example, is required under the law to spend a year in a domestic violence class. A girlfriend who steals from her boyfriend is also required, under the law, to spend a year in a “batterer’s” program. Such programs are expensive (costing thousands of dollars) and are generally paid out of family funds, often hurting the alleged victim. Such programs are also time consuming (which can negatively impact a low-functioning defendant’s ability to complete other, more meaningful treatment), and frequently fail to address the cause of the underlying problem.

The Solution: This resolution would permit (but not require) judges to order alternative programs where the individual facts of the case establish that a “batterer’s” program is inappropriate and less likely to reduce recidivism. A court would still be required to replace the batterer’s program with an alternative program better designed to address the root causes of the defendant’s offense.

RESOLUTION 16-02-2019

DIGEST

Criminal: No Extensions of Sentence Without Conviction or Plea Agreement

Amends Penal Code section 2932 to provide that inmate sentences shall not be extended without a conviction or plea agreement.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the Conference of California Bar Association recommends that legislation be sponsored to amend Penal Code section 2932, to read as follows

- 1 § 2932
- 2 (a)(1) For any time credit accumulated pursuant to Section 2931 or 2933, not more than
- 3 360 days of credit may be denied or lost for a single act of murder, attempted murder, solicitation
- 4 of murder, manslaughter, rape, sodomy, or oral copulation accomplished against the victim's
- 5 will, attempted rape, attempted sodomy, or attempted oral copulation accomplished against the
- 6 victim's will, assault or battery causing serious bodily injury, assault with a deadly weapon or
- 7 caustic substance, taking of a hostage, escape with force or violence, or possession or
- 8 manufacture of a deadly weapon or explosive device, whether or not prosecution is undertaken
- 9 for purposes of this paragraph. Solicitation of murder shall be proved by the testimony of two
- 10 witnesses, or of one witness and corroborating circumstances.
- 11 (2) Not more than 180 days of credit may be denied or lost for a single act of
- 12 misconduct, except as specified in paragraph (1), which could be prosecuted as a felony whether
- 13 or not prosecution is undertaken.
- 14 (3) Not more than 90 days of credit may be denied or lost for a single act of misconduct
- 15 which could be prosecuted as a misdemeanor, whether or not prosecution is undertaken.
- 16 (4) Not more than 30 days of credit may be denied or lost for a single act of misconduct
- 17 defined by regulation as a serious disciplinary offense by the Department of Corrections and
- 18 Rehabilitation. Any person confined due to a change in custodial classification following the
- 19 commission of any serious disciplinary infraction shall, in addition to any loss of time credits, be
- 20 ineligible to receive participation or worktime credit for a period not to exceed the number of
- 21 days of credit which have been lost for the act of misconduct or 180 days, whichever is less.
- 22 Any person confined in a secure housing unit for having committed any misconduct specified in
- 23 paragraph (1) in which great bodily injury is inflicted upon a nonprisoner shall, in addition to any
- 24 loss of time credits, be ineligible to receive participation or worktime credit for a period not to
- 25 exceed the number of days of credit which have been lost for that act of misconduct. In unusual
- 26 cases, an inmate may be denied the opportunity to participate in a credit qualifying assignment
- 27 for up to six months beyond the period specified in this subdivision if the Secretary of the
- 28 Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation finds, after a hearing, that no credit qualifying
- 29 program may be assigned to the inmate without creating a substantial risk of physical harm to
- 30 staff or other inmates. At the end of the six-month period and of successive six-month periods,
- 31 the denial of the opportunity to participate in a credit qualifying assignment may be renewed
- 32 upon a hearing and finding by the director.

33 (5) The prisoner may appeal the decision through the department's review procedure, 34 which shall include a review by an individual independent of the institution who has 35 supervisory authority over the institution.

36 (b) For any credit accumulated pursuant to Section 2931, not more than 30 days of 37 participation credit may be denied or lost for a single failure or refusal to participate. Any act of 38 misconduct described by the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation as a serious 39 disciplinary infraction if committed while participating in work, educational, vocational, 40 therapeutic, or other prison activity shall be deemed a failure to participate.

41 (c) Any procedure not provided for by this section, but necessary to carry out the 42 purposes of this section, shall be those procedures provided for by the Department of Corrections
43 and Rehabilitation for serious disciplinary infractions if those procedures are not in conflict with 44 this section.

45 (1)(A) The Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation shall, using reasonable
46 diligence to investigate, provide written notice to the prisoner. The written notice shall be given 47 within 15 days after the discovery of information leading to charges that may result in a possible
48 denial of credit, except that if the prisoner has escaped, the notice shall be given within 15 days 49 of the prisoner's return to the custody of the secretary. The written notice shall include the 50 specific charge, the date, the time, the place that the alleged misbehavior took place, the evidence 51 relied upon, a written explanation of the procedures that will be employed at the proceedings and 52 the prisoner's rights at the hearing. The hearing shall be conducted by an individual who shall 53 be independent of the case and shall take place within 30 days of the written notice.

54 (B) The Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation may delay written notice beyond 55 15 days when all of the following factors are true:

56 (i) An act of misconduct is involved which could be prosecuted as murder, attempted 57 murder, or assault on a prison employee, whether or not prosecution is undertaken.

58 (ii) Further investigation is being undertaken for the purpose of identifying other 59 prisoners involved in the misconduct.

60 (iii) Within 15 days after the discovery of information leading to charges that may result
61 in a possible denial of credit, the investigating officer makes a written request to delay notifying 62 that prisoner and states the reasons for the delay.

63 (iv) The warden of the institution approves of the delay in writing.

64 The period of delay under this paragraph shall not exceed 30 days. The prisoner's hearing shall 65 take place within 30 days of the written notice.

66 (2) The prisoner may elect to be assigned an employee to assist in the investigation, 67 preparation, or presentation of a defense at the disciplinary hearing if it is determined by the 68 department that either of the following circumstances exist:

69 (A) The prisoner is illiterate.

70 (B) The complexity of the issues or the prisoner's confinement status makes it unlikely
71 that the prisoner can collect and present the evidence necessary for an adequate comprehension 72 of the case.

73 (3) The prisoner may request witnesses to attend the hearing and they shall be called 74 unless the person conducting the hearing has specific reasons to deny this request. The specific 75 reasons shall be set forth in writing and a copy of the document shall be presented to the 76 prisoner.

77 (4) The prisoner has the right, under the direction of the person conducting the hearing, 78 to question all witnesses.

79 (5) At the conclusion of the hearing the charge shall be dismissed if the facts do not 80 support the charge, or the prisoner may be found guilty on the basis of a preponderance of the 81 evidence.

82 (d) If found guilty the prisoner shall be advised in writing of the guilty finding and the 83 specific evidence relied upon to reach this conclusion and the amount of time-credit loss. The 84 prisoner may appeal the decision through the department's review procedure, and may, upon 85 final notification of appeal denial, within 15 days of the notification demand review of the 86 department's denial of credit to the Board of Parole Hearings, and the board may affirm, reverse, 87 or modify the department's decision or grant a hearing before the board at which hearing the 88 prisoner shall have the rights specified in Section 3041.5.

89 (e) Each prisoner subject to Section 2931 shall be notified of the total amount of good 90 behavior and participation credit which may be credited pursuant to Section 2931, and his or her 91 anticipated time-credit release date. The prisoner shall be notified of any change in the 92 anticipated release date due to denial or loss of credits, award of worktime credit, under Section 93 2933, or the restoration of any credits previously forfeited.

94 (f)(1) If the conduct the prisoner is charged with also constitutes a crime, the department
95 may refer the case to criminal authorities for possible prosecution. The department shall notify 96 the prisoner, who may request postponement of the disciplinary proceedings pending the referral.

97 (2) The prisoner may revoke his or her request for postponement of the disciplinary 98 proceedings up until the filing of the accusatory pleading. In the event of the revocation of the 99 request for postponement of the proceeding, the department shall hold the hearing within 30 days 100 of the revocation.

101 (3) Notwithstanding the notification requirements in this paragraph and subparagraphs
102 (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (c), in the event the case is referred to criminal 103 authorities for prosecution and the authority requests that the prisoner not be notified so as to 104 protect the confidentiality of its investigation, no notice to the prisoner shall be required until an 105 accusatory pleading is filed with the court, or the authority notifies the warden, in writing, that it
106 will not prosecute or it authorizes the notification of the prisoner. The notice exceptions 107 provided for in this paragraph shall only apply if the criminal authority requests of the warden, in 108 writing, and within the 15 days provided in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (c), 109 that the prisoner not be notified. Any period of delay of notice to the prisoner shall not exceed 110 30 days beyond the 15 days referred to in subdivision (c). In the event that no prosecution is 111 undertaken, the procedures in subdivision (c) shall apply, and the time periods set forth in that 112 subdivision shall commence to run from the date the warden is notified in writing of the decision
113 not to prosecute. In the event the authority either cancels its requests that the prisoner not be 114 notified before it makes a decision on prosecution or files an accusatory pleading, the provisions 115 of this paragraph shall apply as if no request had been received, beginning from the date of the 116 cancellation or filing.

117 (4) In the case where the prisoner is prosecuted by the district attorney, the Department
118 of Corrections and Rehabilitation shall not deny time credit where the prisoner is found not 119 guilty and may deny credit if the prisoner is found guilty, in which case the procedures in 120 subdivision (c) shall not apply.

121 (g) If time credit denial proceedings or criminal prosecution prohibit the release of a 122 prisoner who would have otherwise been released, and the prisoner is found not guilty of the 123 alleged misconduct, the amount of time spent incarcerated, in excess of what the period of 124 incarceration would have been absent the alleged misbehavior, shall be deducted from the 125 prisoner's parole period.

126 (h) Nothing in the amendments to this section 1 made at the 1981-82 Regular Session of 127 the Legislature shall affect the granting or revocation of credits attributable to that portion of the 128 prisoner's sentence served prior to January 1, 1983.

129 (i) No inmate's sentence shall be extended without a conviction, plea agreement, or 130 negotiated settlement. This includes a loss of credits or anything else that increases the amount of 131 time the inmate might be in prison relative to the amount if the inmate had not been found to 132 have violated the given rule.

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Problem: Current regulations for prison discipline amount to our justice system turned on its head. After an inmate is found to have committed a rule violation, it is referred for possible prosecution. If a trial occurs and the inmate is acquitted, it undoes the guilty disciplinary finding. If no prosecution occurs, the result of guilt and sanctions remains.

In short, after an inmate has been found to have violated a rule by the prison but is innocent, the inmate has to hope to be prosecuted for a chance to vitiate the guilty finding. If the prosecutor decides not to prosecute, whether it be due to resources or lack of evidence, the guilty result remains.

When a guilty finding results in an extension of their sentence, another problem is created: the inmate is precluded from filing a civil action if prevailing would necessarily mean the guilty finding is undone. That is known as the Preiser-Heck rule. Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477 (1994) and Preiser v. Rodriguez, 411 U.S. 475 (1973). For example, imagine an inmate is found under the prison disciplinary process to have committed a battery against a peace officer. Part of the sanction is that his sentence gets extended through loss of good-time credits. The officer had actually attacked him unprovoked but made up the story to claim it was self-defense. Not only is the officer not punished while the inmate is, but on top of that, the inmate cannot sue the peace officer for excessive force based on the attack being unprovoked because prevailing would necessarily vitiate the guilty finding in the prison disciplinary process and alter the length of his sentence. If the sanctions only altered conditions of his confinement, such as loss of yard time or administrative segregation, a civil suit would not be barred. The Supreme Court might not find any constitutional problem with this system, but we can do better. The burden should be higher before an inmate's time can be extended and access to civil court be blocked.

The Solution: This resolution ensures that an inmate's sentence cannot be extended without a conviction, plea agreement, or negotiated settlement. The prison disciplinary process could still be used to punish inmates related to conditions of confinement, such as time in solitary confinement, loss of privileges, and so on. It would only prohibit the disciplinary process from extending an inmate's time in prison. This is not only better when it comes to due process, but it will ensure that inmates are not blocked from filing a civil action against those who wrong them when they have not been convicted or agreed to a plea.

IMPACT STATEMENT

Prison: Desegregation of Transgender Individuals In California Prisons

Amends California Code of Regulations, title 15, section 3269 to ban separate-but-equal accommodations for transgender prisoners in the California jail system.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the Conference of California Bar Associations recommends that legislation be sponsored to amend California Code of Regulations, title 15, section 3269 to read as follows:

§ 3269.

1 Inmates shall accept Inmate Housing Assignments (IHAs) as directed by staff. It is the 2 expectation that all inmates double cell, whether being housed in a Reception Center, General
3 Population (GP), an Administrative Segregation Unit (ASU), a Security Housing Unit (SHU),
4 or specialty housing unit. If staff determines an inmate is suitable for double celling, based on 5 the criteria as set forth in this section, the inmate shall accept the housing assignment or be 6 subject to disciplinary action for refusing. IHAs shall be made on the basis of available
7 documentation and individual case factors. Inmates are not entitled to single cell assignment, 8 housing location of choice, or to a cellmate of their choice.

9 (a) Upon arrival at an institution, facility, or program reception center, a designated 10 custody supervisor shall screen an inmate for an appropriate housing assignment. The 11 screening authority involved in the review and approval of an inmate's housing assignment
12 must evaluate all factors to be considered when completing the Initial Housing Review, 13 including but not limited to:

- 14 • Inmate name, CDC number, and Personal Identification number.
- 15 • Personal factors such as race, date of birth, age, weight, height, birth place, and 16 whether the inmate is a foreign national.
- 17 • Receiving Institution.
- 18 • County of commitment.
- 19 • Out to court return and escape history.
- 20 • Length of sentence.
- 21 • Enemies and victimization history.
- 22 • Criminal influence demonstrated over other inmates.
- 23 • Previous housing status.
- 24 • Reason(s) for prior segregation.
- 25 • History of "S" suffix determination pursuant to CCR subsection 3377.1(c).
- 26 • History of in-cell assaults and/or violence.
- 27 • Security Threat Group affiliation.
- 28 • Involvement in a race based incident(s).
- 29 • Nature of commitment offense.
- 30 • Documented reports from prior cellmate(s) that the inmate intimidated, threatened, 31 forced, and/or harassed him or her for sex.
- 32 • Documentation that the cellmate(s) refused to return to a cell occupied by the inmate 33 because of fear, threats, or abuse perpetrated by the inmate.

- 34 • Documentation that the inmate has been the victim of a sexual assault or was 35 previously single celled.
- 36 • Adjudicated Department Rules Violations Reports (RVR) where the inmate was 37 found guilty as a perpetrator in an act of physical abuse, sexual abuse, sodomy, or other act of 38 force against a cellmate.

39 (b) The screening authority shall complete the Initial Housing Review stating if the 40 inmate is suitable for dorm/cell housing with or without special restrictions. Restrictions are 41 any case factors which may limit the inmate's housing placement options such as, but not 42 limited to:

43 • Security issues including ASU, Restricted Custody General Population (RCGP), and 44 SHU placement.

45 • Request for Protective Custody.

46 • Medical or mental health issues.

47 • Personal factors such as age, weight, and height.

48 • Integrated Housing Code.

49 Staff shall ensure that the housing policies regarding special category inmates covered 50 under specific litigation remain in place during the housing assignment.

51 (c) Upon placement in an ASU or SHU, inmates shall be screened for an appropriate 52 cell assignment using the same criteria as inmates being screened for housing in the general
53 population. The reason for ASU or SHU placement shall also be taken into consideration.

54 Based on available information and the inmate interview, the screening authority shall 55 determine if the inmate is suitable for single or double celled housing, and shall complete a
56 CDC Form 114-A1 (rev. 10/98), Inmate Segregation Profile. Unless approved for single cell
57 assignment, an inmate in ASU or SHU is expected to share a cell with another inmate.

58 (d) Single cell status shall be considered for those inmates who demonstrate a history
59 of in-cell abuse, significant in-cell violence towards a cell partner, verification of predatory
60 behavior towards a cell partner, or who have been victimized in-cell by another inmate. Staff
61 shall consider the inmate's pattern of behavior, not just an isolated incident. An act of mutual
62 combat in itself does not warrant single cell status. The following factors must be considered 63 when evaluating single cell status, noting these factors are not exclusive of other 64 considerations:

65 (1) Predatory behavior is characterized by aggressive, repeated attempts to physically
66 or sexually abuse another inmate.

67 (2) Documented and verified instances of being a victim of in-cell physical or sexual 68 abuse by another inmate.

69 (e) Should the screening authority determine that single cell designation is appropriate, 70 the inmate's case factors shall be reviewed by a classification committee for determination of 71 appropriate housing and designation for an "S" suffix. A classification committee may 72 consider whether an inmate with single cell designation has since proven capable of being 73 double-celled.

74 (f) In cases where single cell status is recommended by clinical staff due to mental 75 health or medical concerns, a classification committee shall make the final determination of an 76 inmate's cell assignment. The classification committee shall consider the clinical 77 recommendations made by the evaluating clinician with assistance from the clinician who 78 participates in the committee and review the inmate's case factors when determining the 79 housing assignment. Single cell status based upon clinical recommendation is usually a 80 temporary short-term measure and must be periodically reviewed, minimally at an inmate's 81 annual review or more frequently at the inmate's/clinician's request.

82 (g) Transgender inmates and inmates having symptoms of gender dysphoria as 83 identified and documented in SOMS by medical or mental health personnel within a CDCR
84 institution shall be referred to a classification committee for a determination of appropriate
85 housing at a designated institution, pursuant to Article 10 of Subchapter 4. This classification
86 committee must allow transgender women to be housed in female jail facilities, and trans men
87 in male jail facilities, in a de-facto status, and must take all available steps to avoid harmful 88 isolation cells, separate but equal gender non-conforming housing pods, and housing under 89 the wrong type of assumed gender in the California jail system.

90 (h) If an inmate refuses to be housed as determined to be appropriate to this section, 91 the inmate shall be subject to the disciplinary process. Refusal to participate will result in the 92 issuance of a Rules Violation Report (RVR) for Conduct, subsection 3005(c), Refusing to 93 Accept Assigned Housing, for the Specific Act of Willfully Resisting, Delaying, or 94 Obstructing any Peace Officer in the performance of Duty (CCR subsection 3323(f)(6)).
95 Subsequent acts of the above listed offense will result in the issuance of additional 96 disciplinary reports.

(Proposed new language underlined; language to be deleted stricken)

PROPONENT: Bar Association of San Francisco

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Problem: Currently transgender women are classified de facto into male jail facilities in the California jail system, with the almost certain result that they will be put into segregational housing. The recent creation of a separate-but-equal “Gender-Nonconforming” housing pod in the SF jail system as an “alternative” for transgender women clearly does not solve the housing discrimination situation for them. It fails to address the fact that transgender women are female, and by keeping them blocked from female jail housing, they are also de facto being segregated from their proper jail population by clearly discriminatory means. This goes for transgender men as well, and also for other people on the trans spectrum in the jail system in inappropriate inmate housing.

This issue with the law as it stands now is that it uses an unregulated jail committee to handle transgender inmates cases housing situation by using outdated internal standards, which directly has led to the currently harmful discriminatory housing for trans inmates. By adding specific directions to the committee aforementioned in the statutory language, this type of draconian housing situation for the trans in jail housing can be eliminated.

The Solution: This resolution would add direct language to hold the trans jail classification committee responsible for their actions towards the trans community in California jails, by holding that the classification committee must provide transgender women to be housed in female jail facilities, and trans men in male jail facilities, in a de-facto status, and must take all available steps to avoid harmful isolation cells, separate but equal gender non-conforming housing pods, and housing under the wrong type of assumed gender in the California jail system.

Criminal: Allows Parents to Record Evidence of Violence Against Dependents

Amends Penal Code section 633.5 to allow parents to record conversations for evidence of violence against their minor dependents.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the Conference of California Bar Associations recommends that legislation be sponsored to amend Penal Code section 633.5 to read as follows:

1 § 633.5
2 Sections 631, 632, 632.5, 632.6, and 632.7 do not prohibit one party to a confidential
3 communication from recording the communication for the purpose of obtaining evidence 4 reasonably believed to relate to the commission by another party to the communication of the 5 crime of extortion, kidnapping, bribery, any felony involving violence against the person,
6 including, but not limited to, human trafficking, as defined in Section 236.1, or a violation of 7 Section 653m, or domestic violence as defined in Section 13700. Nothing in Section 631, 632, 8 632.5, 632.6, or 632.7 renders any evidence so obtained inadmissible in a prosecution for 9 extortion, kidnapping, bribery, any felony involving violence against the person, including, but 10 not limited to, human trafficking, as defined in Section 236.1, a violation of Section 653m, or 11 domestic violence as defined in Section 13700, or any crime in connection therewith.
12 (a) As used in this section, “the person” shall include (1) the person doing the recording,
13 and (2) a minor dependent of the parent or legal guardian doing the recording.

(Proposed new language underlined; language to be deleted stricken)

PROPONENT: San Diego County Bar Association

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Problem: Existing law is a problem from the perspectives of rights, morals, and practicality. One may not record a communication unless all parties consent, or it is in a public place or place where parties can reasonably expect to be overheard (Penal Code § 632). Exceptions exist if it is to get evidence of (1) extortion, (2) kidnapping, (3) bribery, (4) domestic violence, (5) annoying telephone calls, or (6) any felony involving violence against the person. Unlike the others, only the person who was subject to the violence can record violent felonies. Simply, if someone kidnapped a child, parents can call or confront the perpetrator to record an admission. If, however, someone raped, severely beat, or committed another violent felony against a child, the parent cannot call or confront the perpetrator to get a recorded admission; except in one appellate district, only the child may do the recording. In Fifth District, In re Trever P., 14 Cal.App.5th 486, 221 Cal.Rptr.3d 871 (Ct. App. 2017), the Court adopted the “vicarious consent” doctrine, which allows parents to record communications between their child and someone else to obtain evidence of the listed exceptions. That, however, is limited to one district and would likely not apply to the parent calling or confronting the perpetrator directly.

Regardless of whether the parent doing so is strategically smart, it should not be illegal. Parents have the right and duty to protect their children, and helping get prosecuted those who harm their children is part of protecting them. Furthermore, if a child has a right to do something, the parents have a right to do it on their behalf. Morally, everything is wrong about a law telling kids that unless they can “suck it up” and call or confront the person who committed a violent felony against them, no recording can be made.

This law manufactures more criminals and dangerous situations than it punishes or prevents. (1) Many parents whose children have been raped or severely beaten will not think to check the Penal Code, so they will just call or confront and get a recording. When they turn it into the prosecution, they can be in for a triple-nasty surprise. First, the parents did it for nothing because the recording is inadmissible. Second, parents opened themselves up to prosecution. Most prosecutors are good people and probably would not prosecute the parents, but it shouldn't be a matter of discretion. Third, the same cannot be said of the perpetrator, who now has a civil action against the parent (PC 637.2). (2) For those parents who check the Penal Code, they would not record. If children are old enough, they might take it into their own hands and call or confront the perpetrator and risk mental and physical danger.

The Solution: This resolution ensures that any recording by a parent or guardian to get evidence of a violent felony against their child is as legal and valid as a recording done by the child.

12 (a) As used in this section, “the person” shall include (1) the person doing the recording,
13 and (2) the person who requested to the recorder that the recording be done.

(Proposed new language underlined; language to be deleted stricken)

PROPONENT: San Diego County Bar Association

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Problem: Under existing law, one may not record a communication unless all parties consent, or it is in a public place or place where parties can reasonably expect to be overheard (Penal Code § 632). Exceptions exist if it is to get evidence of (1) extortion, (2) kidnapping, (3) bribery, (4) domestic violence, (5) annoying telephone calls, or (6) any felony involving violence against the person. Unlike the others, only the person who was subject to the violence can record violent felonies. That is wrong from the perspectives of rights, morals, and practicality.

Under any concept of rights, if one has a right to do something, one has a right to ask another do it for them. E.g., because we have a right to defend ourselves, we have a right to delegate defense of ourselves to someone else. Similarly, if we have a right to record someone to get evidence of a violent felony against us, we have the right to ask someone else to do it for us. Under current law, that right is not recognized.

Morally, one should not need to be the victim to do the recording. Survivors should be able to consider their safety and have someone they trust do it for them. Prohibiting them from doing so is wrong.

Practically, the current law puts people in dangerous situations, physically and mentally. When people who have been subject to violence have to “suck it up” and confront or call their perpetrator, or no recording can be done, it puts them in danger. Facing them in person puts the survivor at risk of the perpetrator striking again. With calling, anything, including the mere sound of the perpetrator’s voice, can trigger a panic attack. By letting them ask someone they trust to record, those situations can be avoided.

The last paragraph assumes they would think to check the Penal Code. Many would not and would just ask the person they trust to record. If done successfully and turned into the prosecution, they can be subject to a quadruple-nasty surprise: First, the recording was for nothing because it is inadmissible. Second, the recorder has exposure to prosecution. Most prosecutors are good people and probably would not prosecute the recorder, but it should not be a matter of discretion. Third, the survivor is open to prosecution because by asking someone to do something illegal, that person has taken a substantial step toward it and committed attempt. Again, most prosecutors are good people and probably would not prosecute, but it should not be a choice. Fourth, the same good nature cannot be said of the perpetrator, who now has a civil action against the recorder (PC 637.2).

The question is not whether recording the perpetrator is smart. The question is whether those who do it in those circumstances should be prosecuted and sued. The answer is a resounding no.

The Solution: This allows people to record to obtain evidence of a violent felony at the request of the person subject to the violent felony.

28 cannabis for sale may be punished by imprisonment pursuant to subdivision (h) of Section 1170
29 of the Penal Code if the offense involves knowingly hiring, employing, or using a person 20

PROPONENT: Los Angeles County Bar Association

The Problem: After the passage of Proposition 64, transportation for sale of an ounce or less of marijuana by an adult is now an infraction subject to a $100 fine upon conviction. However, due to a drafting error, possession for sale (without transportation) of an ounce or less of marijuana is subject to a stricter penalty, including potential prosecution as a felony. To put it another way, under current law, a person who tries to sell a small amount of marijuana while standing still is subject to more jail time than a person who tries to sell a small amount of marijuana while driving.

The Solution: This resolution would clarify that possession for sale of an ounce or less of marijuana is not subject to greater punishment than possession for sale of an ounce or less in a car.

RESOLUTION 16-07-2019

DIGEST

Criminal: Expands Ban on Recording Confidential Communications to Non-Violent Actions
Amends Penal Code section 632 to expand the ban on recording communications to all non-violent actions.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the Conference of California Bar Association recommends that legislation be sponsored to amend California Penal Code section 632 to read as follows:

- 1 § 632
2 (a) Every person who, intentionally and without the consent of all parties to a confidential
3 communication, by means of any electronic amplifying or recording device, eavesdrops upon or 4 records the confidential communication, whether the communication is carried on among the 5 parties in the presence of one another or by means of a telegraph, telephone, or other device,
6 except a radio, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars
7 ($2,500), or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison, or by 8 both that fine and imprisonment. If the person has previously been convicted of a violation of 9 this section or Section 631, 632.5, 632.6, 632.7, or 636, the person shall be punished by a fine
10 not exceeding ten thousand dollars ($10,000), by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 11 one year, or in the state prison, or by both that fine and imprisonment.
12 (b) The term “person” includes an individual, business association, partnership, 13 corporation, limited liability company, or other legal entity, and an individual acting or 14 purporting to act for or on behalf of any government or subdivision thereof, whether federal,
15 state, or local, but excludes an individual known by all parties to a confidential communication 16 to be overhearing or recording the communication.
17 (c) (1) The term “confidential communication” includes any communication carried on in 18 circumstances as may reasonably indicate that any party to the communication desires it to be 19 confined to the parties thereto, but excludes a communication made in a public gathering or in 20 any legislative, judicial, executive or administrative proceeding open to the public, or in any 21 other circumstance in which the parties to the communication may reasonably expect that the 22 communication may be overheard or recorded.
23 (2) Along with sound- and symbol-based expressions, the term “communication” shall 24 also encompass all actions except live acts of violence that are heard or seen by another person
25 from a lawful vantage point. Any sound- or symbol-based expressions contemporaneously made 26 with a live act of violence seen or heard by another person from a lawful vantage point shall not 27 be considered a “confidential communication.”
28 (d) Except as proof in an action or prosecution for violation of this section, no evidence 29 obtained as a result of eavesdropping upon or recording a confidential communication in 30 violation of this section shall be admissible in any judicial, administrative, legislative, or other 31 proceeding.
32 (e) This section does not apply (1) to any public utility engaged in the business of 33 providing communications services and facilities, or to the officers, employees or agents thereof,
34 where the acts otherwise prohibited by this section are for the purpose of construction,

35 maintenance, conduct or operation of the services and facilities of the public utility, or (2) to the 36 use of any instrument, equipment, facility, or service furnished and used pursuant to the tariffs of 37 a public utility, or (3) to any telephonic communication system used for communication 38 exclusively within a state, county, city and county, or city correctional facility.

39 (f) This section does not apply to the use of hearing aids and similar devices, by persons 40 afflicted with impaired hearing, for the purpose of overcoming the impairment to permit the 41 hearing of sounds ordinarily audible to the human ear.

PROPONENT: San Diego County Bar Association

STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Problem: California courts are split on whether “communication,” in the prohibition on recording a “confidential communication” includes actions or just words and symbols. California’s Third District COA says it only includes communications through “sound or symbol.” (People v. Zuber, No. C032200, 2002 WL 169660, at *5 (2002); People v. Drennan, 84 Cal. App. 4th 1349 (2000)). By contrast, California’s Fourth District states it includes all communications, regardless of form. (People v. Gibbons, 215 Cal. App. 3d 1204, (Ct. App. 1989); People v. McCallister, No. E029538, 2002 WL 1724003, at *7 (2002).)

The differing opinions make a huge difference. Under one interpretation, video recording without sound would be permitted unless they are communicating in sign language. Under the other interpretation, that would be prohibited regardless. In Zuber, the defendant secretly recorded his sex acts. The Third District upheld his conviction only because the recording included a separate conversation. In Drennan, the defendant hid a video camera to take periodic pictures for months, and then his conviction was overturned because it did not capture contents of “audible or symbol-based communications.” By contrast, in Gibbons, the defendant secretly recorded his sex acts, and the Fourth District upheld his conviction because “communication” is broader than “conversation” and includes conduct. In McCallister, the defendant hid a video camera with no sound in his wife’s bedroom, and his conviction was similarly upheld.

Clarity is needed so people understand what is permitted and prohibited. When one COA upholds a conviction that the other would reverse, people lack the notice to comport their behavior within the law. The law should be clear that secretly recording actions in a confidential setting is just as prohibited as recording words and symbols, except live acts of violence when seen or heard from a lawful vantage point because people should not have a claim to privacy while committing violence. Given that a live act of violence legally and morally justifies using violence to defend oneself or others, it can certainly justify lesser actions, such as recording.

The Solution: Recording actions in confidential settings, except acts of violence from a lawful vantage point, will be prohibited. That accomplishes three benefits: (1) it resolves the judicial split and clarifies that communications in a private setting, including actions, cannot be recorded. (2) It provides a safe harbor for those who record violence from anywhere that they are allowed to be. Smartphones with recording abilities are in everyday use and many people’s first instinct when seeing violence is to record. Not only should they not be prosecuted and punished, but they should have a sense of security that they cannot be. Just like body cameras on police officers, recordings can provide clarity of what exactly happened. (3) Those who commit violence will lose any ability to legally claim victimhood based on their action being recorded. The current civil remedy given to those recorded against the recorder (Penal Code § 637.2) will be unavailable to them.
